

Welcome to the Production Assistant Training Seminar!

On behalf of the Virginia Film Office, the Virginia Production Alliance and the CCWA, we sincerely thank you for participating in this seminar.

During the next two days, we will be exploring the basics of a film set: the different roles, the stages of production, set protocol and above all, the responsibilities and best practices for Production Assistants.

The goal of our training is to leave you with enough information to not only be equipped to work productively on a film or television set, but also to be an “unforgettable PA.”

We have a great group of guest speakers and I would like to ask you to review their film credits before Sunday and prepare any questions that you might have for them:
